ARMED POLICE SWOOP

Smash scene: A bus, a silver BMW and a Nissan were damaged in the crash in Burlington Road

Deadlinepix KT69799

Three arrested as police ram car off road in New Malden

Armed police officers "rammed a car off the road" in New Malden and arrested three men suspected of planning a robbery.

The operation on Tuesday left a black Nissan and a grey BMW damaged in the middle of Burlington Road on Tuesday at about 2.50pm. A 131 bus was also hit in the collision.

Accountant Andrew Grey, who works at ATKINSONS Chartered Accountants, said: "I heard a car being crashed into and someone shouting.

"Then a guy running across the other side of the street and three or four plain clothes police officers carrying guns."

Mr Grey said: "It looks like the police had deliberately rammed the other car off the road. I don't know if they had been chasing them."

Businesses in the road described the scene. Jongkwan Park, a shopkeeper at Sunnymart, said: "The police were chasing the black car and all the traffic was stationary with the bus parked at the bus stop.

"The black car tried to get through the traffic and hit some other cars.

"The police caught two guys right in front of us and the other one went a bit further."

He said when the cars crashed he just heard a loud bang.

Roxanne Steward, hairdresser at C and N Hairdressers, said: "We saw them chasing them.

"The police just had them down on the ground. We thought it was a car accident first of all because he was lying on the ground.

"Someone said there were actually four of them but police caught three.

"It was really noisy. The police rammed the car off the road."

A Metropolitan Police spokesman said: "At about 2.50pm officers from the flying squad conducted a hard stop on a vehicle in Burlington Road at the junction with Queen's Road, New Malden.

"It was part of a proactive police operation. The suspect vehicle was in collision with two other vehicles, one silver BMW and a London bus, route 131.

"Two male suspects of the BMW suffered whiplash injuries and were treated at the scene.

"Three men were arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to rob."

London Ambulance Service said a 25-year-old man was treated for back and neck injuries.

World was watching designers

A Surbiton designer created some of the outfits and props for the Brazilian performers at the Olympic closing ceremony.

Iliyan Kukushliev was part of the team chosen to showcase their designs.

Together the team made 140 illuminating costumes, which were worn in the Rio de Janeiro 2016 handover section of the show.

Sid Odedra, who managed the design team from Middlesex University, said: "It was very hard work as everything had to be spot on and there was no room for error as the whole world was watching."

Two charged

Two men have appeared in court charged with the murder of a woman found dead in a New Malden garage.

Carole Waugh, 50, was found dead of a single stab wound in a car inside the Lime Court lock-up on August 2.

Nicholas Kutner, 47, and Rakesh Bhayani, 40, appeared at Croydon Magistrates' Court, on Thursday, August 16, by video link from Wandsworth prison. Prosecutor Marsha Elias said they had murdered Ms Waugh sometime between April 16 and 17.

They will reappear at the Old Bailey on November 22.

Mr Bhayani, of Wembley, has also been charged with three counts of conspiracy to commit fraud worth £280,000 connected to Ms Waugh.

Mr Kutner faces charges of renting her property out, taking money from her bank account and pretending to be her brother to sell her home.

Three stabbed in alleyway fight on Knollmead estate

by TOM BARNES

tbarnes@london.newsquest.co.uk

At least three men were stabbed after a fight in an alleyway on the Knollmead estate.

An air ambulance landed in the grounds of Richard Chaloner school near the Hogsmill open-space between Malden Manor and the Sunray estate on Wednesday evening, according to a witness.

A Metropolitan Police spokesman said officers were called to the fight on the Tolworth estate at about 5.45pm on Wednesday, August 15.

He said: "We found two males suffering relatively minor stab injuries, certainly not life-threatening. Both were taken to hospital for treatment."

"A short while later officers stopped a vehicle in Amberwood Rise in New Malden. A male occupant of the vehicle was found suffering a stab wound. He has also been taken to hospital for treatment, again not believed to be life-threatening."

Eleven men have been arrested and released on bail in connection with the fight.

A resident, who asked not to be named, said: "Last night me and my wife came out about 9pm and there were two guys trying to get into one of the houses over the road."

"We tried to calm it down and eventually they ran off, but they must have been there for a good 10 minutes."

"Next thing I know, when I came back from work today, my wife tells me someone has been stabbed."

Another neighbour said: "I heard somebody had run down and got caught in the alleyway near the park by a couple of guys."

"I heard one of them was stabbed in the heart and I saw him being airlifted."

A third neighbour said: "I've lived here for 27 years. It used to be rough, but I thought it had got much better."

"All the trouble normally happens at Malden Manor, but here was OK I thought but it seems not."

Kings of the road will return next year

Border skirmish as row erupts over who owns Wiggo Corner

Top cyclists, including Bradley Wiggins, Lizzie Armitstead and Mark Cavendish, could be whizzing over the Olympic cycle route again next summer.

Ride London hopes to attract more than 200,000 cyclists and visitors to the race next August.

They will speed through most of the Olympic race route, which went through Kingston, Wandsworth, Elmsbridge and Richmond, as part of a new annual marathon for the cycling world.

The exact route will be confirmed later in the year.

The event will be managed by the London and Surrey Cycling Partnership, a joint venture between London marathon and the Tour of Britain organisers.

Jon Fray, from Kingston Cycling Campaign, said: "I think this is a great opportunity for people to get involved again."

"You can be a participant or a spectator."

"In other countries they have these mass cycling rides so something similar in London would be exciting."

"We are lucky to have so many good places to cycle past because we have the Thames here."

The two-day cycling festival, from August 3 to August 4, will incorporate three major cycling events, including a family fun ride for up to 70,000 cyclists on an eight-mile loop of closed roads around London landmarks.

Councillor Sharon Hartley said: "This is amazing – it is what legacy is all about."

"Young and old were having such a wonderful time during the races and to see it again will be fantastic."

A wacky event for riders in vintage gear, some on penny farthings, is already being organised by the Homage de Fromage community group in Surbiton, on Sunday, September 16.

Wiggo Corner has been added to the list of British landmark victories along with Waterloo, Trafalgar and Wembley 1966.

But cheeky residents on the other side of the Thames are trying to steal the site away from Kingston, calling for Brad's Magic Roundabout at Hampton Wick.

Olympic gold medal winner Bradley Wiggins poured

by TOM BARNES

tbarnes@london.newsquest.co.uk

praise on spectators in Kingston after his time trial victory, suggesting the cheers topped anything he had experienced in his career.

Political commentator Paul Waugh was one of many to suggest a Wiggo Corner in Portsmouth Road.

In town: The roundabout by Rose Theatre

Rival site: The Hampton Wick side of Kingston Bridge

Cornered? Jon Fray

Richmond cycling champion, Councillor Katharine Harborne, said: "There is no doubt in my mind that he was referring to the roundabout in Richmond rather than Kingston."

"We have the most amount of cyclists in the capital so it is fitting we should have Wiggo Corner in our borough."

But Jon Fray, chairman of Kingston Cyclists, said Wiggo Corner was near the Rose Theatre and Jamie's Italian.

He said: "He clearly said it was Kingston so who are they to doubt the great Bradley Wiggins, these people of Hampton Wick, wherever that is. Anyone who heard the roar as he came through Kingston will know we shouted loudest for him."

And deputy mayor of Kingston Barry O'Mahony, who cheered from Kingston Market Place, said attempts to wrestle control of Wiggo corner were "outrageous".

Richard Williams received backing from Edward Davey for his campaign for a permanent tribute to the racer.

He said: "I think a permanent tribute to him should be placed in Kingston to mark his fantastic achievement and to say thank you to him for making our town so proud."

Another Kingston resident called for him to be knighted as Lord Wiggins of Kingston, but requests for a road named after a living person may be scotched.

So far, Mr Wiggins, who has 562,916 followers on Twitter, has not responded to requests to identify Wiggins Corner.

This little Wiggy went to market: Kingston Market Place was a popular spot

'We will not be moved'

Angry residents have pledged to form a human shield to stop the bulldozers after their four-year campaign to stop a bus coming down their road fell on deaf ears.

Transport for London (TfL) said it would press ahead with rerouting the 265 bus down Beverley Way, Raynes Park, despite opposition from MPs Stephen Hammond and Zac Goldsmith, as well as London Assembly member Richard Tracey.

Sally Berriman, from Beverley Way Residents' Association, complained the road was too small for buses and their arrival would create a risk of accidents.

She also said there was little demand for the bus service, and that it should be kept on busier roads nearby.

She said: "TfL feels it is entitled to blight our lives, devalue our homes and make it difficult for us to park near or have access to our homes.

"This is not democracy. This is a mighty machine bulldozing its way through people's lives, just because it can and no one can stop it.

"When TfL send in bulldozers, we will form a human shield to prevent access. We will need to be removed forcibly."

TfL's consultation on the proposals yielded some 121 comments opposed to the new 265 route, with 18 comments in favour of it.

TfL's head of consultation delivery Peter Bradley said: "While I do appreciate some residents may not be happy with this decision, and am aware some may not use the bus service, as a transport authority we must look at the overall accessibility and availability of the service for all residents, especially the elderly and disabled."

The 265 bus service runs single-decker buses between Putney Bridge station and Tolworth.

Couple caught on the hop by a frog hiding in lettuce

by CHRISTINE FLEMING

cfleming@london.newsquest.co.uk

One couple could have been left hopping mad when they discovered a frog in their dinner, but instead they saw the funny side.

Dianne Smith, 56, of Ladywood Road, Surbiton, found a small amphibian lurking in her lettuce last week. The label on the packaging said it was grown by R Pond.

Mrs Smith, who bought the lettuce from the Victoria Road Sainsbury's in Surbiton, on Friday, August 10, said the last thing she expected to find inside was a stow-away frog.

She said: "It was a little jack frog just a bit bigger than a 50p.

"It really gave me quite a shock but I think he was more frightened of me than I was of it.

"I shouted to my husband 'frog in the lettuce, there is a frog in the lettuce'."

Mrs Smith and husband Kelvin released the frog into their garden and reported the incident to Sainsbury's who apologised and gave them a complimentary bottle of wine.

Slimy surprise: Kelvin and Dianne Smith found an unwelcome guest in their salad

A spokeswoman for Sainsbury's said food safety was a top priority for the store and they were concerned to hear about Mrs Smith's experience.

She said: "We were pleased she did the right thing and released it back into the wild, and we're also grateful that she let us know.

"We have apologised to Mrs Smith, and look forward to seeing her in our store very soon."

Mrs Smith said she could not believe the coincidence of the name of the supplier of that particular lettuce.

She said: "It also said on the outside of the bag to celebrate the extraordinary and I've certainly done that.

"It was just so bizarre, it was a dear little thing [and] the fact it came from a supplier called R Pond tickled us.

"I suppose it is a big compliment to Sainsbury's that you know it must be organic."

Fired partner gets compensation

A Kingston nightclub owner has been ordered to pay compensation to a former partner he fired hitting him on the head with a diary.

Franco Lumba, who owns Essence and Gala Bingo, lost a five-figure sum after the tribunal ruled he fired his former partner unfairly.

Annamarie Harris, 37, from Ascot, was the manager of the Pink Gentleman's Club and its nearby sister bar Vanilla, in Windsor, when she was fired by Mr Lumba, with whom she has a daughter.

Ms Harris, a former dancer, managed the club in the shadow of Windsor Castle. She was fired in January by Mr Lumba, 44, who alleged she had hit him with a diary.

She challenged the decision by taking her employer, FT Trading, to a tribunal where a panel awarded her £26,000 in compensation after he was found guilty of unfair dismissal by a tribunal.

The panel ruled that Ms Harris was owed unpaid wages and holiday pay and FT Trading had failed to issue her with written terms and conditions of her employment.

Ms Harris was awarded £17,770 for loss of

Businessman: Lumba and Gala Bingo

earnings, £800 as a basic rate for being dismissed after two years of employment and £2,000 in unpaid wages and lieu time.

She was also given £4,680 for 23 days of holiday pay, £350 in statutory rights payment and £800 for not being served with any written terms and conditions.

The pair were in a relationship while she worked at the venues and they have a 17-month-old daughter.

Neither Mr Lumba nor his legal representatives were present at the tribunal hearing.

Following the tribunal, Ms Harris told the Daily Mail: "Those two clubs were my babies. I put everything I had into them."

"I worked 70 hours a week, six days a week. I gave it everything."

"To be sacked in the way it happened was unfair. I would have preferred to still be in the job because I know I did a good job."

A chance to get creative

Young carers will have a chance to take part in a range of creative activities following an announcement the Queen's silver jubilee trust has awarded funding for a new project.

One hundred young carers from across Kingston, Southend, Merton and Kent will benefit from creative arts workshops run by arts charity Create as part of multi-art form project inspired:arts.

Running in the school holidays until February 23 next year, 12 creative arts workshops led by professional artists will be offered with help from Kingston Carers Network.

Nicky Goulder, Create's co-founder and executive director, said: "Inspired:arts is enabling young carers to explore their creativity, build supportive relationships with one another, develop social skills and grow in self-confidence."

"The project is also helping them to have fun away from the responsibility of their caring duties."

On Friday, August 31, and Saturday, September 1, professional photographer Tracey Fahy will lead a digital photography class, and later in the year there will be banner-making and painting, music and songwriting, and mother's day jewellery making.

Work rewarded as pupils get results

Collecting your A-level results may be nerve-wracking, but is it worse than sub-zero temperatures, polar bears and icebergs?

As hundreds of students found out whether they had made the grades to get to university, Elle Cripps was on a school trip to the Arctic Circle.

Her proud parents Debbie and Kevin collected her results – two A*s and two As – from Surbiton High School.

They said: “We are extremely proud of her. She wants to be a glaciologist so she wouldn’t have missed this trip for the world.”

Some schools opened their doors at 8am for eager, or nervous, students to arrive.

Excited student Hebe O’Malley arrived at Tolworth Girls School early and said: “I stayed up most of the night. I had to make my grades to get into Warwick. I got two A grades and an A*.

All smiles: Jake Strong and James Anstee

“I feel so pleased now. I worked hard.”

Students were also flooding into Chessington Community College.

James Anstee, 18, who attained three Cs in economics, history and media studies, said: “I am very happy with my results and I am going to go to Kingston University.”

Chris Lewis-Lloyd from Kingston Grammar School got three A*s in chemistry, maths, and biology.

He said: “I wasn’t expecting three A*s.”

Twins double up and get identical A-levels

Identical twins are celebrating after getting exactly the same A-level results.

Danyal and Atteeq Hayat, of New Malden, got C grades in maths and physics, a D in further maths, and A*s in their art Btec qualifications.

The Southborough School sixth formers, who both support Manchester United, are left handed and said a combination of nature and nurture made them so similar.

Danyal, who is the older brother by two minutes, said: “We grew up together, obviously same parents, same school, and we study together.”

“Even considering that I still think there is a special connection as twins, sometimes we will say the same thing at the same

by CHRISTINE FLEMING

c.fleming@london.newsquest.co.uk

time, which some people find bizarre.”

Atteeq said: “We will be in the same social situation and we will talk later and we will be thinking the same thing, even to the point where we have the same A-level result.”

Both boys insist they are not competitive, although Atteeq did point out he got slightly better GCSE results than his sibling.

He said: “It is not us that are competitive. It is more our friends and the teachers who big it up.”

“We prefer to encourage and help each other. If he is doing well at something that might make me want to be on the same level.”

The brothers will not celebrate until after Ramadan, but then will have a party with friends and family before going together to Epsom College to do a foundation course in art.

Rope trick: Harry and Sam Cross won a bronze medal for the double dutch speed skipping

Skipping to bronzes

Forget the Olympics. Skipping is the new sport on the block for two world skipping champions from Kingston.

Harry and Sam Cross, 16 and 15, of Canbury Park Road, won the bronze medal for the double dutch pairs speed category of this year's competition in Florida at the start of this month.

The two brothers, who took up skipping more than 10 years ago, said they were delighted at the win after years of two to three-times-a-week three-hour practice sessions.

Harry said: "We both started at Saint Luke's Primary School and then joined the Bouncers 13, and Tiffany Branscombe, 15, both from Seer Green in Buckinghamshire.

Sam said: "It is all about practice and teamwork.

"Once you've done something, you can always do it again. Keep trying and trying because practice and teamwork are key."

Both youngsters practised together at Riverview Primary School in Epsom, where their club Bouncers meet, ahead of the big competition.

Following the excitement of their win they have already said they would love another medal at the World Championships in 2014.

Skipping Club. Sam joined after competing and coming second on CBBC's Jump Nation.

"We are all so happy. We never thought that we could win a medal at an international competition, but it just goes to show that practice and determination is what makes everything happen."

The pair were joined in their speed event – where two of the team jump for one minute each and the winner is determined by the highest number of jumps in two minutes – by Georgia Toay,

NHS Continuing Healthcare

Introduction of deadlines for requests for assessments of eligibility for cases during the period 2004-2012.

On 15 March 2012, the Department of Health announced the introduction of deadlines for new cases which require assessment of eligibility for NHS Continuing Healthcare funding.

The deadlines apply to previously un-assessed periods of care, which occurred in the following time periods:

PERIOD	DEADLINE
1 April 2004 -30 September 2007	30 September 2012
1 October 2007 -31 March 2011	30 September 2012
1 April 2011 -31 March 2012	31 March 2013

Individuals should contact their local Primary Care Trust (PCT) Continuing Healthcare Team for further information on how to notify the PCT of a request for assessment of eligibility. This notification should be given within the deadlines above. Some cases may be accepted after the dates outlined above if there are exceptional circumstances for doing so.

In the London boroughs of Croydon, Kingston, Richmond, Wandsworth, Sutton and Merton please contact:

'Inept' sex case gets thrown out of court

by PAUL TEED

pteed@london.newsquest.co.uk

A juror has spoken out after an "inept" prosecution against a Kingston College student who spent five months in prison accused of sex attacks before being freed.

Kingston College student John Bate, 24, was acquitted of assaults near Teddington Lock after Judge David Higgins expressed serious concerns about victims' different descriptions of the culprit.

Two women and two teenage girls were assaulted between January and March this year.

Mr Bate, of Simpson Road, Ham, walked free on Thursday, August 2, after the judge directed the jury to find him not guilty of two counts of sexual assault, one count of attempted sexual assault, one count of exposure and one count of assault by beating. He was arrested on March 17 and had been behind bars ever since.

A juror in the case told the Kingston Guardian: "It just seems so wrong that cases like these get to trial and ruin someone's life without any evidence."

"This case forced victims of a crime to go through their trauma again – what on earth were the police and CPS doing?"

Acquitted: John Bate

He said he had serious concerns about the evidence he heard, including police asking Mr Bate where he was at 1pm, instead of 1am – the time of one of the attacks.

Officers also did not show a knitted red scarf they seized from the student's grandmother's house to the victim who described it, he said.

Judge Higgins said he doubted the same man was responsible, after victims gave differing descriptions of their attacker's height and one said he had black hair.

He said police had not taken very full statements and sympathised with the women who gave evidence despite the Crown Prosecution Service's (CPS) "lamentable" case.

He said: "With the age of the complainants, it's quite outrageous that they are being exposed to this sort of case management, in circumstances where there are so many questions unanswered and, on the face of it, there's so much maladministration."

"It's quite staggering they should be exposed with all that goes with a case of this kind."

"It's an extraordinarily inept case in its current form, considering such sensitive allegations of such seriousness for all concerned."

The CPS said it decided to charge Mr Bate based on evidence police had provided and it was looking into the judge's concerns.

Officers questioned a second person on March 7 this year, before arresting Mr Bate 10 days later.

A CPS spokesman said: "We are looking into all of the matters raised and will be working with the police."

Shoppers will decide

So the mini-markets of Tolworth Broadway want to stop the building of a new Tesco superstore on the old Toby Jug site.

Do these people not know that we live in a market-driven economy where consumers have freedom of choice?

It is the shoppers of Tolworth who decide whether they want to shop in Tesco or one of the scruffy mini-markets selling exotic food and fruit in the Broadway. It is not up to mini-market managers to tell us where we can and cannot shop – Tolworth shoppers do not owe them a living.

The argument that it will cause gridlock congestion is of course spurious – keeping traffic moving at the roundabout is simply a matter of good planning and design.

The Tesco at Shannon Corner is usually crammed full of shoppers and it can take half an hour just to get out of the car park some Sundays. The new supermarket will take off some of the pressure and provide residents with 250 new jobs.

Another link in chain to continue riverside walk

The original proposal for the filter beds that the Kingston Society fought against so valiantly years ago was to fill in the beds and build on top.

This scheme was thrown out and the land declared metropolitan open land, not greenbelt.

The designation as open land does not preclude development as long as it is sympathetic to the site and respects its ecological and townscape impact.

The site was offered to Kingston Council which refused to take it on without a grant from the water company for its maintenance – no one else was interested.

Hydro Properties now owns the site. Hydro Properties has proposed a scheme very like a small scale version of the Barnes Wetlands Centre.

This wonderful artificial nature reserve was only made possible by the building of 333 much needed houses on part of the site. At the filter beds 64 dwellings are proposed, which would enable the construction and maintenance of a nature reserve.

Your recent article selectively quoted the Wildfowl and Wetlands Trust's statement leaving out a crucial section: "the consulting arm of WWT, was approached by Hydro Properties and in principle agreed to design the wetland habitats, if the planning process finds the proposal environmentally and ecologically acceptable.

We believe that landscapes of the future need to incorporate wetlands and wildlife within residential spaces; this is not to say this development is a good or bad example.

There is to be public access, this is not to be a gated area, other than the 15 per cent of the site which is housing.

There is a clear policy to continue Kingston's delightful riverside walk, and this development will provide another link in the chain, no doubt there is a minority who would not relish the final joining of this link to the rest of the chain.

The committee of the Kingston upon Thames Society continues to support Hydro Properties proposals as they stand on the basis of the quality of the architecture, the new technology, public access and amenity, general improvement in the environment, and the construction and maintenance of a local nature reserve.

Benefit cut letter scare

Just another incident of the incompetency of this Liberal Democrat council.

The housing department is sending out letters to all tenants who, according to their records, have a spare bedroom, saying their housing benefit could be cut, in one case by £15.61 a week.

If they wish to stay in their property, then the tenant should make up the shortfall themselves, otherwise non-payment could lead to the tenant losing their home.

However, disabled tenants have received these letters not realising that as they are in receipt of Disability Living Allowance, Attendance Allowance, or War Disablement Pension, they are exempt from the benefit cap. The letters do not say this.

The housing allocations department has admitted the letters could be misleading, as the department does not have knowledge as to which tenants are in receipt of disability benefits.

The lead executive member for Better Homes, Councillor Frances Moseley, should take full responsibility and resign.

MARY CLARK

Many facts wrong in letter on Kingston's schools

Last week Aaron Perry replied to my letter (Councillor 'could do better', August 16). Here are corrections to his errors:

The decision to close Bonner Hill School was made in 1980. At the end of the 1970s, the borough faced increasingly falling rolls. In 1979 the secondary schools' population was 92 per cent of available places.

This was expected to fall to 66 per cent by 1991. No way could any council keep those places in case 30 years on they might be needed.

The Lib Dems did not reduce all class sizes to 30. The decision to reduce infants' class sizes to 30 was made by the then Labour Education Secretary David Blunkett.

The Lib Dem "education councillors", led by Don Jordan and the Conservative equivalents, led by me, co-operated in how we would not only find the extra classrooms required but how we would carry that policy through to juniors.

The Lib Dems did not build Fern Hill. It was the result of the then director, Bill Dickenson, applying for an extraordinary basic needs grant.

Lib Dem Ian Reid and I worked together on getting the school started as Coombe Hill Annex and renamed Fern Hill.

All this information is publicly available, Aaron.

Time to change your mattress?

Most people sleep on it and pay the price.

A tired mattress can leave you feeling just as tired too

Open Bank Holiday Monday

By Sandra Haynes

Is your mattress over 7 years old, saggy or just not as comfortable as it used to be? Putting off replacing it can lead to disturbed sleep, morning tiredness, stiff neck and back ache. In fact, it's the main reason for lack of sleep for most people – they just don't realize it.

Buying a new mattress might seem like an expense you can manage without but it's one of the most valuable things you can do to improve your health and general well being.

What happens to your old mattress over time?

The main problem is deteriorating support. Over time, the springs inside your mattress lose their firmness so they start to sag under your weight. Eventually they become so weakened they retain your shape creating dips and hollows across the surface of the mattress. It's this unevenness and lack of support that causes the body to toss and turn during the night. The lumpier it gets the more disturbed sleep you're likely to get.

The benefits of a new mattress to you

You'll literally notice the difference overnight! From the moment you lie on it to when you wake up in the morning, a new mattress will transform your whole body and your mood too.

- You'll sleep better for longer
- Fall asleep quicker and easier
- Wake up feeling far more refreshed
- Aches and pains will simply fade away
- Well rested you'll feel happier in yourself
- You'll find you have more energy
- Handle the stresses of the day much more easily

Right now, you'll PAY LESS to regain a good nights sleep with our EXTRA DISCOUNT SPECIAL OFFER!

SAVE UP TO £200

There's never been a better time to buy a new mattress from Hamseys thanks to our special EXTRA DISCOUNT VOUCHER. Take this luxury Visco Pocket Memory Foam Mattress for example. Happy memories: Pat and Ron Page

Deadline KT69383

'Best years of our lives'

by CHRISTINE FLEMING

cfleming@london.newsquest.co.uk

There were tears on their wedding day, but 60 years have flown by for a Chessington couple.

And as they approach their landmark diamond wedding anniversary Ron and Pat Page said they may not know the secret to a lasting marriage, but they do know that being contented has helped.

Mr Page, 82, said he could not wait to mark 60 years of marriage with wife Pat, 79.

The grandfather-of-two said: "You wouldn't know where 10 years have gone, people who were at our 50th anniversary all said the same thing, it's unbelievable."

The couple, whose official anniversary is Thursday, August 23, but who are having a celebration party on Saturday, August 25, met when Mr Page came out of the Army in the 1950s and returned to his former family home in Cresset Street, Clapham.

He said: "I came out the Army after conscription and Pat was friends with my sister."

"When I left to join the Army Pat wasn't living on my street, but she moved there and met my sister, also called Pat, and through my sister I started going out with her. I was 23 and Pat was only 20."

"I was looking for love and 60 years on we are still married."

The couple, who moved to Arnold Drive, Chessington, more than 18 years ago, courted for two years before marrying in St Peter's Church, Clapham, and holding a reception at the former Clapham Manor Baths.

The couple have had one son, two grandsons, and moved across south London living in Southfields and Wimbledon before settling in Chessington. They described their wedding day as the best moment of six decades together.

Mrs Page is looking forward to celebrating her anniversary in style with two original bridesmaids present.

She said: "Ron was good looking then and he is still not bad now."

"I remember I was very nervous and I cried on our wedding day, but I think that is quite normal really. It was a nice day."

Taste of Korea

Cuisine: Chae Park and Grace Song

KT69423

by CHRISTINE FLEMING

cfleming@london.newsquest.co.uk

Thousands of people turned out for this year's annual Anglo-Korean festival at Kingston's Fairfield to share in a whole host of cultural delights.

Crowds gathered on Saturday, August 11, as the festival returned for its 15th year with martial arts demonstrations, food stalls as well as lots of musical entertainment.

The Korean Residents Society said the event was one of the largest festivals in south London for Korean people.

Highlights of the event included a taekwondo demonstration, with performers dressed in traditional clothes performing high kicks and mid-air spins, a British veterans parade, and a chance to sample Korean delicacies, such as meat cooked on a traditional Korean barbecue and served with popular pickled vegetable dish kimchi.

Young Geun Park, chairman of Kingston's Korean Residents Society, said the purpose of the annual event was to commemorate the liberation day of Korea.

He said: "This day we remember the sacrifice of the patriots who died for the independence of Korea. The festival is also intended to introduce the Korean culture to local and multicultural communities and councils."

South Koreans gathered at the Fountain pub, in New Malden, days earlier to watch their team win Olympic football bronze.

Week of good taste as festival cooks up a treat

Kingston Food Festival took over the town centre with an array of tasty treats and events last week.

The seven-day food extravaganza, organised by Kingston first, included a food market selling a wide variety of local produce and food from around the world.

The festival also included live cooking demonstrations and master classes.

A competition using some of the world's hottest chillies also attracted large crowds as daring chilli-lovers competed against one another with a live commentator spurring them on.

As part of the lead up to the festival children entered their pizza ideas for a competition to have their pizzas created.

Two entrants from Castle Hill School in Chessington were chosen as the lucky two.

They will now have their pizzas created at Kingston's Zizzi restaurant until September. A final winner will be crowned later in the year.

Alongside such culinary delights Kingston hosted the English Beer, Cider and Wine Festival and even held a cocktail mix-off to launch the festival at Las Iguanas restaurant.

Food festival: Isabella and Grace de Cani mixing it up with Susan Carmichael; Carlos da Silva at Carluccio's stall; Amaya Duerden, six, checks out the bratwursts

Helping adults learn new skills

Richmond upon Thames College has a long history of providing opportunities to adults to learn new skills and gain accredited qualifications which are nationally recognised by employers.

The college's specialist teachers are all industry experts and have many years of experience in their particular sectors. Richmond upon Thames College specialises in professional development in areas including business and accounting, hospitality and catering, ICT, media and photography and sport.

Along with nationally recognised professional qualifications such as AAT certificates and diplomas, NVQs and fitness instructing and personal training certificates, the college offers comprehensive apprenticeship and higher education programmes.

Apprenticeships provide work-based training to young people who want to gain new skills and qualifications whilst working and apprentices are highly valued by employers as they help fill critical skills gaps.

The college's higher education courses may be a sensible cost-effective alternative for students wishing to gain a degree or HND/C but do not want the commitment to expensive university courses.

All higher education students benefit from dedicated resources and support including an IT suite, learning resource room and student common room.

Along with excellent staff/student ratios, students may benefit from an extensive range of additional support and advice services to help them achieve their full potential.

Further details on all courses can be found by visiting www.rutc.ac.uk

Paralympic performance

Disabled musicians from around the world are performing to celebrate the London 2012 Paralympics.

Korean charity, Beautiful Mind, hosts a series of international concerts by disabled and non-disabled performers to promote cultural exchange and share a love of music.

The charity's newest project, called beautiful concert beautiful mind, will see Korean and British musicians deliver a message of hope and challenges through their collaboration.

The group of performers will play a range of music from classical and jazz to traditional Korean tunes in central London before coming to Kingston and then going on to do visiting concerts for disabled children.

The performances, backed by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade and the Korea Foundation, aim to share music with less privileged societies around the world and all proceeds go to local communities.

Beautiful Mind, which was established in 2007, has organised concerts in Taiwan, Japan, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Cambodia, Singapore, and Russia.

The charity aims to strengthen the recognition of the Korean community through cultural diplomacy and break down barriers of handicap, race, and nationality.

□ Beautiful concert beautiful world, Coombehurst Studio, Kingston University, Kingston Hill Campus, Kingston, Thursday, September 6, at 6.30pm, tickets free, call 07869 117994.

DYLAN on DISPLAY

Eight limited-edition Bob Dylan prints have gone on display in Kingston.

Dylan, an acclaimed singer, songwriter, recently added eight new images, which play with different colours in order to create different atmospheres in each image, as well as the newly released image of a 'house on union street' which has not been released to the public before.

This unveiling of a set of his limited-edition prints marks the launch of his The Drawn Blank Series 2012 collection.

The images which are being displayed at Artisan Fine Art, and will be for sale as well as viewing, were taken from drawings Dylan created while on tour during 1989 and 1992.

They include the House on Union Street that is being unveiled for the first time.

Other prints that are being made available again as part of the display and artwork sale include Dad's Restaurant, Truckstop and Vista From Balcony.

Sharon Davidson, manager at Kingston's Artisan Fine Art, said: "His art is the product of an extraordinary, inventive imagination always restless and always on the move."

Each print is published in a limited number of 295 copies worldwide, with prices starting from £1,500.

□ Artisan Fine Art, 14-18 Fife Road, Kingston, KT1 1SZ, call 020 8974 5855, bobydylanart.com.

IN DEEP WATER

TERENCE
ARPINO

AN exhibition of 3D underwater photographs will go on display at the Cornerhouse in September.

Fifteen pictures will be shown by photographer Terence Arpino. The 3D photographs, capturing images of underwater life around the world and produced using a specialist process of lenticular printing to create a multi-dimensional image, have been created to draw the viewer in.

Mr Arpino says: "This show is about promoting and showing the delicacy of the underwater world we live in and appreciating the environment and giving the public the chance to see it for themselves.

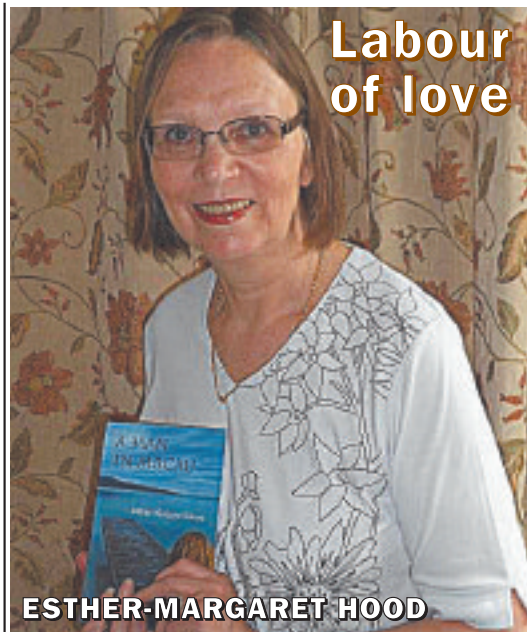

Mr Arpino, whose photos have been taken over 40 years, says the exhibition is a unique chance to feel like you are entering the underwater world.

He says: "My passion is diving, the underwater sea, the flora and fauna. Every dive is different so it is about the excitement and challenge of getting the photos you are looking for."

□ Underwater Photography in 3D, The Cornerhouse, Douglas Road, Surbiton, September 4-29, free admission.

Labour of love

ESTHER-MARGARET HOOD

A New Malden mother has had her first novel printed.

Esther-Margaret Hood, 58, who works as a teaching assistant at Holy Cross School had been writing the romance novel for 16 years before she completed it.

She says: "The book has been a labour of love – it took me about 16 years to write, although it was untouched for long periods due to the demands of bringing up two children."

The novel is based on the story of an ex-pat Julia Wade who seeks out a mysterious man in Macau, China.

A Man in Macau is available at all good bookshops.

Internet access tops list of mod cons we want in a home

Homebuyers now expect to have immediate access to the internet when they buy a new home.

Two thousand people were asked which mod-cons they deemed essential when moving into a new home.

And whilst there were few shocks at the top of the list – with the humble kettle at number one – perhaps the most surprisingly popular ‘essential’ was internet access with more than half of people moving home demanding the service, which scored higher than a toaster, iron and microwave.

Essential items in a new home:

1. kettle
2. fridge
3. oven
4. washing machine
5. freezer
6. television
7. vacuum cleaner

8. internet access 9. toaster 10. iron

Demand for nearly all products was greater amongst women, with the exception of the more ‘gadgety’ items generally associated with men, such as games consoles, music systems, and DAB radios.

And the younger you are, the less likely you are to want a music system or a DAB radio, which would indicate how more and more young people are accessing music via their computers. Just one in 20 people aged 18 – 24 years old required a DAB Radio, compared with one in five of the over 55s.

James Holland, Managing Director of The Co-operative Electrical which carried out the survey, said: “It shouldn’t surprise us that internet access has become so important to UK homeowners as more than three quarters of UK homes are online, compared with just over a third 10 years ago, which is an enormous and rapid increase. I would expect the internet’s ‘essential’ status to rise over the years ahead.

“I’m sure it will never topple the kettle in terms of popularity, but with more and more gadgets being controlled online, I doubt we’re too far away from asking it to brew up via a computer or smart phone.”

He added: “Not too long ago, after moving home people would unpack the kettle and toaster first but now people are more inclined to brew up and surf the net from their new home.”

There were some interesting regional variations, as less than half of all Londoners thought an oven was an essential item, and only 45 per cent of Londoners and people living in the West Midlands said they needed a vacuum cleaner.

Homeowners in East Anglia and the north east had the highest total demand for electrical items: East Anglians scored most for kettles, toasters, freeview boxes/satellite receivers, microwaves and internet access.

The north east topped the lists for tumble driers, irons, TVs, DVD players, games consoles, music systems and DAB radios.

The exceptions were the south east, which had the highest demand for dishwashers, Northern Ireland, which topped the list for toastie makers, and the East Midlands, with the greatest demand for computers.

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.

3. The advertiser further confirms that:

- i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
- ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
- iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.

6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.

9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.

13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.

14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.

15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods:

- CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD.
- BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices.
- CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

Alexander saves Surbiton

Olympians James Tindall, Matt Daly and Rob Moore were absentees as Surbiton kicked-off their pre-season preparations with a 1-1 draw at Reading on Sunday.

Only eight of last season's registered players featured in new coach

Todd Williams' first squad, as Tim Deakin equalised Reading's 48th minute opener before Surbiton keeper Tommy Alexander, right, saved a last minute penalty corner for the draw.

Surbiton next host Hampstead & Westminster on September 1.

Casuals ready for Cup run it may be mid-August but Corinthian Casuals boss Kim Harris has backed his men to reach the next round of the FA Cup, writes Will Kelleher.

Casuals visit Redhill on Saturday in the FA Cup first preliminary round after a hard earned 1-1 draw at Horsham in their Ryman Division One South opener last weekend.

"We are above them in the league system, so we should be winning the game," said Harris.

"Having said that it is a cup game so league status means nothing. We're playing away which will be tough, but I expect us to come through with a win."

A 70th minute Danny Green strike looked to have given Casuals the points before a Horsham equaliser ten minutes from time.

"It was slightly disappointing not to get the win, but a draw was a good result," added Harris.

Casuals' last reached the first round proper in 1983 where they lost to Bristol City 4-0 in a replay.

Title glory

Gordon Pearce won the 1,500m and 3,000m races to help Kingston AC & Polytechnic Harriers retain their Rosenheim League title at Tooting Bec last Wednesday.

There were also wins for Andre Nembhard (100m), Richard Holt (400m hurdles), Michael Cole (high jump) and Nick Owen (shot).

Ks ready to set the pace

by STUART AMOS

samos@london.newsquest.co.uk

Kingstonian boss Alan Dowson hoped his side's new found pace would earn them more respect this season.

Ks blew away Harrow Borough on Monday night with two goals in the opening 10 minutes of a blistering second half show, having gone in at the break with the scores level at 1-1.

Aaron Goode and Andre McCollin notched twice before Dean Lodge added to his first half penalty with another successful spot-kick with 15 minutes left on the clock.

It followed Saturday's 1-1 draw at East Thurrock United and helped Ks hit the top of the Ryman Premier League table prior to Tuesday night's fixtures.

Dowson's men lost 5-2 to United on the final day of last season and the King-smead-ow chief had said Saturday's result would be a good barometer by which to judge his side's chances

Fast start: Kingstonian striker Andre McCollin lets fly in Monday night's 4-2 win over Harrow Borough, which fired Ks to the top of the Ryman Premier League table for 24 hours. Dean Lodge, below left, scored twice from the spot to add his goal in Saturday's opening day 1-1 draw at East Thurrock United this term.

And he admitted Monday's showing from Lodge, McCollin, Wade Small and Craig Mullen would mean the rest of the division might take his side more seriously this season.

"Attacking wise that is one of the best performances I have seen in many years," he said.

"Defensively we conceded some sloppy goals. We didn't deserve to be 1-0 down against the run of play, but overall I have to be delighted at that display.

"We've never had pace at this club, not for about four or five years. It makes one hell of a difference.

"I don't think other teams will be scared of our pace, but they may give us a bit more respect because last season we were a bit powder puff.

"The lads up front are not only quick, but they work very hard as well.

"I thought Andre McCollin was phenomenal tonight, as was Wade Small and Dean Lodge. So if you get three lads who are quick, but also hard workers you always have half a chance."

And he admitted there was work needed at the other end for Saturday's visit of Margate.

"I'm delighted going forward, but I have to get the defence right," added Dowson.

SPORTSbrief

CRICKET: Malden Wanderers captain Simon Crampton wants the Surrey Championship Premier Division title next season after his side retained its place in the top flight with a win at champions-elect Wimbledon. Wanderers won by seven runs after Crampton, Mark Ashcroft and Khayyam Shakeel claimed three wickets each to dismiss the hosts for 147.

"We're looking to mount a title challenge. We're always looking to strengthen. Now we know we'll still be in the Premier League we can build," said Crampton.

ATHLETICS: Kingston AC & Polytechnic Harriers' Nick Owen threw 14.65m in the shot to secure his team's only event win to finish seventh in their final British Athletics League Division Two match. They ended up seventh in the league table.

CRICKET: Worcester Park lost by three wickets at Ashford to slip out of the Surrey Championship Division Two top two on Saturday. They go to bottom club Cobham Avorians this week.

ROWING: Kingston's Thomas Marshall won a bronze medal after his Team GB men's eight pipped Romania to third by 0.08 seconds at the world junior rowing championships in Bulgaria on Sunday.
